Harford Christian School

“Pure mathematics is, in its way, the poetry of logical ideas.”
Albert Einstein

“Let all things be done decently and in order,” says Paul in I Corinthians. Like Scripture, math yields clarity that brings order to the complexities of life. Thus, it is high on the academic list at Harford Christian.

Beginning in the early grades, students learn basic problem solving and analytical skills, using the Bob Jones University curriculum materials. That paced introduction sparks interest and leads to achieving the goals of ordered thinking, reasoning, and personal creativity. And good math skills tend to spill over into other areas, resulting in well-rounded thinking.

A recent SAT study showed that HCS easily equals the math levels of regional schools. Students consistently post top scores in the Maryland Association of Christian Schools.
